

Rachel Dummeldinger

Rachel Dummeldinger has been a happy resident of Plant City for the past 9 years. Rachel had wanted to be a Plant City resident since her days as a volunteer firefighter and EMT with Hillsborough County, where she learned how to drive the “Strawberry” firetruck, and helped take care of the citizens of Plant City and Dover, in the early 2000’s.

Rachel is active with community theater, having spent a term on the board at Plant City Entertainment, and is currently on the artistic council for The Missing Piece Theatre Company, a new theatre venture, who’s home is in Mulberry. Rachel is an artist, working from her home studio, and can be found out and about in our area’s art shows and is a proud member of the East Hillsborough Arts Guild.

Rachel is quite happily a wife, mother and grandmother, mother to 2 dogs and about 25 saltwater reef fish and friends. It is during this season of her life, Rachel is digging in deeper into the Plant City community and investing in the Plant City of tomorrow.
